Republicans Outline Program Of Legislation

SOLDIER BONUS IS ONLY QUESTION ON WHICH PARTY YET SEEMS UNDECIDED

Senate May Be Kept In Session for Twelve Hours Each Day
CONGRESS TO REMAIN IN SESSION FOR MONTHS
Leaders Predict It Will Be Late Summer Before Adjournment

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 10.—Pass the tariff bill, the soldier bonus bill and the ship subsidy bill and then quit. This was the program outlined today by administration leaders for the present session of congress.
It was a formidable program which they admitted probably would keep congress in session until late summer but one which they declared they expected to be carried out. Only the course to be pursued with regard to the soldier bonus remained in doubt, it was stated.
The belief was expressed, however, that some agreement probably would be reached to sandwich it somewhere between the tariff and ship subsidy legislation. The enactment of the tariff and ship subsidy bills was certain, it was predicted, as a result of the white house conference last night, between President Harding and the Republican members of the senate, commerce and merchant marine committees.
Opponents of the soldier bonus were said to have found encouragement in the fact that it was not mentioned at the conference. It was agreed at the conference that the joint hearings which the senate, commerce and marine committees are conducting on the ship subsidy, should be concluded this week, and the bill put through the house while the senate still is engaged with the tariff bill.
Starting today it was the purpose of Senator Lodge and other administration leaders to hold the senate in session from 11 a. m. to 11 p. m. in an effort to expedite consideration of the tariff bill.

EDWARD P. PULLIAS, POPULAR EMPLOYE OF L. AND N., DEAD RESULT OF INJURIES

Car Inspector Struck By Switch Engine and Fatally Hurt
RUSHED TO HOSPITAL FOLLOWING ACCIDENT
Funeral Services Will Be Held From the Residence This Afternoon

At 4:35 o'clock Tuesday evening, one hour and 35 minutes after he had gone on his regular shift for the day's work, Edward P. Pullias, car inspector in the Louisville and Nashville yards met horrible injuries from which he died at one minute to twelve Tuesday night at the Benevolent hospital.
He was inspecting a train, seeing that all doors were shut, and other duties pertaining to the routine in which he worked. He was working on track No. 5. A switch engine it is said, was moving along on track No. 4, getting ready to move a car, and when at a point opposite him, Mr. Pullias stepped backward to track No. 4 to look upon top of a car, when he was caught under the wheels of the switch engine. Both legs were severed above the knees, and a part of one hand was cut off.
He was conscious after the accident, and to E. R. Wolfe, the yard master, he stated that he was going to die, and asked that Mrs. Pullias and the children be sent for. His wish was complied with, they arriving shortly after. He was carried to the Benevolent hospital where everything was done possible with the hope of saving his life.
He is survived by Mrs. Pullias and four children as follows: Mrs. Harris Orr, Claude Pullias, Margie Pullias and Clifford Pullias.
Funeral services will be conducted at 4:30 o'clock today from the home at 6th Ave. and 7th street South Albany, where the family had just recently taken residence in a newly completed home. Deceased was a member of the W. O. W. and the funeral benefit association.

Observe Friday As Hospital Day

Friday is to be observed throughout the country as National Hospital Day. Carrying out the idea the trustees of Benevolent hospital will be hostesses to the public Friday from 2 to 5 p. m., at which time they will keep open house. You are invited. Interesting features will be provided. Familiarize yourself with the workings and plans of this local institution, one which has and is now doing a great good to the sick and unfortunate.

Dr. Powell Tells of His Experiences In Flooded Delta in the Early Days

Dr. Powell, General Secretary of the Southern Baptist Missionary Committee, who is on a visit to his daughter, Mrs. W. P. Wilks, has traveled far West and saw everybody is "For Ford." Dr. Powell will leave today for Mount, Ill., where Sunday he expects to raise an indebtedness on the First Baptist church there and dedicate the church. He stated that as the floods had damaged property there considerably, he expected to experience some difficulty in raising the desired amount.

Dr. Powell is a native of the Mississippi river delta region and related some vivid experiences in connection with overflows of the Father of Waters, as the Indians called the Mississippi.
"My earliest experience," said Dr. Powell, "in the flooded district came to me when I was a little boy. I recall I used to fish from our front porch, when the water would rise. I recall once the river came higher than usual. Our house was built on very high under pinning, but that time we had to lay a 'false floor,' several feet above the regular floor to keep out of the rising water. I never will forget seeing some of the negroes in the house at that time as they scrambled after a large Buffalo fish and caught him that had gotten in between the 'false floor' and the regular floor."

IN A SEA OF DANGER

"Later," continued the Doctor, "I was a preacher and had to make it on horse back into Greenville, Miss., through a sea of swollen waters. I could not see any land marks. My horse was going not toward his home, but from it. He was raised in another county, I could not swim a lick. Of all those who will take part in the production of the 'Womanless Wedding' are urged to attend rehearsal this evening at the Masonic Theater at 7:30 o'clock.

NEW YORKER SURPASSES EXPLOITS OF SHERLOCK HOLMES!

Stranger than fiction and surpassing the mythical exploits of Sherlock Holmes is the story of how New York police restored the face of a girl from a skull found in the Haverstraw Mountains and developed one of the strangest murder cases in the annals of crime. Grant Williams, identification expert, with a few pounds of putty and a wig, reconstructed the head of Lillian White, brutally and mysteriously slain, so that relatives were able to identify her. Mrs. Mary Hamilton, New York policeman, aided Grant. Detectives now are searching for a Haverstraw mountain hermit, suspected of slaying the girl. The accompanying pictures show the process of reconstructing the face from the skull.

RUSSIAN REPLY TO ALLIES CRITICIZES CONTENTS OF NOTE

GENOA, May 10.—The Russian reply to the allied memorandum of conditions for eventual recognition of the Moscow government, which was to have been delivered today, but was held up at the last moment, criticizes the contents of the allied communication.
"The Russian delegation notes with astonishment the remarkable fact that the allied memorandum deals only in the most general terms with the most important questions, namely Russia's recovery," said the text of the Russian document.
The Russian document is elusive on some points and is very lengthy. It is understood to go into minute detail upon the chief issues, such as return of foreign owned property, which has been nationalized by the Soviet, recognition of the old Czarist debts by Moscow and a loan demanded by Russia for the reconstruction of the country.
The keynote of the Russian memorandum might be conveyed in the phrase, "let's talk it over" as regards the crucial article Number 7, dealing with the restitution or compensation for private property confiscated or nationalized by the Soviet.
According to an authorized summary the Russian reply proposes a commission of experts to which will be entrusted the task of reaching a common basis for an understanding.

Graves Postpones Address Here

Hon. Bibb Graves, candidate for governor, who was advertised to address the citizens of the Twin Cities at the court house Tuesday evening, did not speak. Owing to the fact that he had been speaking continuously for some time past his throat was in such a condition that he refrained from taxing himself further. Rev. O. P. Spiegel of Montgomery, however, spoke about 10 minutes in Mr. Graves' behalf. It is announced that at a later date Mr. Graves will return and address the citizens here.

REHEARSAL

All those who will take part in the production of the "Womanless Wedding" are urged to attend rehearsal this evening at the Masonic Theater at 7:30 o'clock.

LOCAL MASONS ARE ATTENDING PARLEY IN FLORENCE TODAY

Many Albany-Decatur Masons today were in Florence to participate in the Shrine ceremonial which followed the celebrating the 100th anniversary of the founding of the order in that city yesterday.
George Fleming Moore, former head of the Scottish Rite Masons in America, is in Florence and delivered the principal address on the centennial program. He spoke last night at the Princess Theater.
The Shrine's ceremonial is being held today and many attractive features are on the program. A big parade was one of the features of the program yesterday. Shrine members from all North Alabama communities are in Florence today for the Shrine ceremonial.

Placement Officer Will Be a Visitor

O. R. Stump, assistant placement officer of the United States Veterans Bureau, with headquarters in Birmingham, will come to the Twin Cities on May 26 to meet with veterans of this section who desire the services of the bureau.

Cocklebur Grows In Sheep's Wool

Geo. W. Russell, a well known planter, who resides in the country west of hope, besides being a planter raises some sheep. Shearing time came and the wool was taken off, a sample of which was brought to town this week and exhibited. There is nothing unusual about this. But there is an unusual feature attached to this fact. Wool gathers cockleburs while the sheep gather grass. This happened last fall. They were well matured. Nature said it was time they were showing up their genuineness, and as nature is always true, the germ life contained therein expressed itself in tiny green shoots which found their way out through the wool where the parent bur was hiding. Excessive moisture and warmth is responsible for this unusual occurrence, unusual because the bur's were out of the soil.

SENSATIONS ARE PROMISED IN WAR FRAUD PROBE SOON

(International News Service.)
WASHINGTON, May 10.—The department of justice shortly will spring a sensation in its war fraud probe, by causing the indictment of a number of former officers of the government. Department officials said today that the indictments have only been delayed to allow thorough investigation to connect up all who connived with profiteers in robbing the government.
Attorney General Daugherty today confined his reference to such officials as merely including "influential personages" within the government service under the former administration.
Some of the most notorious frauds are said to have been made easy through the active aid given by former officials who not only passed without contest through other government channels.
Although officials were very reticent about the identity of individuals involved, or the cases in which they are implicated as principals, under the criminal statutes, it is said the list of those scheduled for prosecution criminally include many who occupied important official berths in the war department, the navy department and shipping board, and also in the department of justice itself.
At the department of justice today, it was said that blame for much of the delay in expediting the war fraud cases was directly due to the cleverness of former officials in covering up some of the large war transactions.

Five Prisoners Are Being Sought

ATLANTA, Ga., May 10.—Federal officers assisted by city and county policemen and a pack of bloodhounds, were searching near here today for trace of five federal prisoners, who escaped yesterday afternoon from the United States penitentiary. The men, all of whom are said to be dangerous, are believed to be hiding in the woods near the prison. The men are: Harry P. Stone, sentenced for smuggling; Robert Brown, violating interstate commerce laws; Harry Burke, violating interstate commerce laws; Roy S. Conner, violating motor vehicle act and Clyde Nichols, robbery and desertion from the army.

ASSOCIATED PRESS ADMITS THE DAILY; SERVICE STARTS AS EARLY AS POSSIBLE

Management Aims to Give Readers the Best Possible Newspaper
PERFECT PROTECTION ON ALL WORLD NEWS
Dispatches From Two Big Services Will be Received Temporarily

The management of The Albany-Decatur Daily, ever seeking to give the people of North Alabama a better newspaper than they ever have enjoyed before, takes pleasure in announcing today the admission of The Daily into the Associated Press.
Associated Press service will be started to The Daily as soon as the necessary arrangements can be made. For the time being The Daily will receive the dispatches of both the International News Service and the Associated Press, giving the readers of this newspaper as nearly perfect protection on all world news as it is humanly possible to render.
The future growth of The Daily is something, of course, that the management cannot at this time definitely forecast, but its growth in the past leads the management to hope that it will no be long until The Daily is able to carry each day a full leased telegraph report. It is the ambition of the management to add additional machinery for that purpose as soon as conditions will permit.
The Associated Press needs no introduction to newspaper readers in this section. Its performances in the past have permitted it to attain a position of trust among newspaper readers that makes its addition to The Daily news service an announcement of great importance.
The Associated Press is accurate, rapid, complete and its many connections in every section of the world enable it to render an unusual service to its clients. It is different from all other news services in one outstanding respect. While other news services are bought and paid for by newspapers which use them at a stipulated price, the Associated Press is a cooperative organization.
Papers receiving the A. P. report first must be admitted into membership by action of the organization itself. After they become members, arrangements are made for service and payment is pro-rated among the membership with the addition of a small profit for the organization for use as a kind of emergency fund.

Advertise for Prosperity Advice Of Governor of Federal Reserve Board

(International News Service)
BIRMINGHAM, May 10.—Advertising by merchants will draw American dollars out of hiding places and operate to drive depression out of business, Governor W. P. G. Harding, of the federal reserve board, said today, addressing the Southern Wholesale Dry Goods Association here.
Governor Harding, predicting better times ahead, said business men should turn to printer's ink as one of the greatest stimulants to trade. He proclaimed himself an advocate of selling through purchased space in newspapers.
"Use printer's ink, advertise liberally, but judiciously. Business that you thus create for yourselves will stimulate production and by reducing the number of unemployed will add to the purchasing power of your customers,"

REITERATES CHARGE THAT FARMERS WILL BE SAVED MILLIONS BY SHOALS PROJECT

Statement Questioned, Copper Declares, But He Stands By It
QUOTES FIGURES IN ANSWER TO CRITICS
Best Remedy For Conditions Is Henry Ford At Muscle Shoals

By SENATOR ARTHUR CAPPER, Written for the I. N. S., Copyright, 1922.
WASHINGTON, May 10.—"My statement that I believe American farmers could be saved $125,000,000 annually on their fertilizer bill by proper development of the Muscle Shoals project, has been questioned, but I stand by that statement. I also make another. It is that I believe our prosperity as a people depends on developing such nitrate questions. This country spent $326,339,600 for commercial fertilizers in 1919, according to the census. Our need for nitrogen is growing enormously. Our consumption of it doubles every ten years. In 1919 we imported 246,672 tons of nitrate from Chile which cost $110,000,000 delivered at American ports. The American people have paid the Chilean nitrate trust nearly a billion dollars for a product much inferior to that we can manufacture at home.
"At this moment more nitrogen is a soil need everywhere in the United States. I am told we are not using one tenth as much nitrogen as we should be using. All of which emphasizes our great need for more and cheaper nitrogen fertilizer.
"Along with the nitrate to be obtained from the air at Muscle Shoals, there are exceedingly rich and inexhaustible deposits of phosphates and limestone nearby. It is pretty well established that with cheap waterpower Ford can make fertilizer at Muscle Shoals at about half the price and of much superior quality to the Chilean product.
"The best remedy that I can see for the high cost of living is a permanent and prosperous system of American agriculture with Henry Ford at Muscle Shoals."

TWIN CITY VISITORS

J. H. Hunt and daughter, Mrs. Ruby Floyd, of Plainview, Ark., are on a visit to the Twin Cities, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Green. Mr. Hunt was born and reared in Arkansas, and this is his first visit to Alabama. Mr. Hunt states that the strawberry industry is one of the large source of revenues in his section, the fruit being shipped in train load lots.

WE FAVOR ACCEPTANCE OF HENRY FORD'S BID FOR MUSCLE SHOALS.

United States Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas and owner of the Capper publications has the following to say of the newspaper:

"The modern newspaper is a public institution, of, by and for the people. Its real owner is the public, not the gentleman who happens to control for the time being its purse strings. Its prime purpose is public service not private gain or aggrandizement."

ONE FAMOUS PHRASE AND ANOTHER'S BID FOR FAME.

A noted railroad magnate once said, "The people be damned". It took practically a generation of time to eradicate that phrase from the minds of the public. Another public man has said the same thing in substance, on this wise. "I am getting damned tired of the public advocating Henry Ford for Muscle Shoals just because he is Henry Ford". The same phrase will live and will be handed down the ages. It is equivalent to saying, the public is so damned stupid that it does not know when and why and what it does want. Who are these self styled custodians of public property and dictators of public conscience? Who delegated them to sit in judgment on great questions and bar the possibility of them being realized by the people who are the government in the final analysis, and to whom those in public office must at last turn for the permission to represent them. Surely the public have a right to be heard on matters of great public interest, the greater the interest the more and incessant must necessarily be the call to their servants to carry out their wishes. Thomas Jefferson wrote the Declaration of Independence, which laid down for all time the splendid principle that Governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed. That is the cornerstone of democracy.

RED CROSS CHIEFTAIN PASSES IN TRIUMPH.

The fortune of Henry P. Davidson was no longer his when he had breathed his last on the operating table a day or so ago. Mr. Davidson is not remembered for his fortune. He is not remembered because of his wonderful career, although few American business men can claim a better record than the dead financier. He began with little or nothing and was advanced step by step in the banking business until he became the trusted partner of the banking house of Morgan. He is said to have possessed nerves of iron, and that at all times he was cool and self possessed. It is reported of Mr. Davidson, that once a bandit entered the bank where he was at work placed a pistol and demanded a large cash bounty or the death of the financier. After a time the bank guards overcame the desperado, and Davidson went on with his day's work as if nothing had happened. About a year prior to the operation that proved fatal, Mr. Davidson had had a similar one, and reports show that he had reason to believe that the last one would prove fatal. He walked with his family and hired people about the grounds surrounding his estate on Long Island the evening before the day he breathed his last, and jokingly told of the little party of surgeons he was to have on the morrow. But as evidence that the doomed man took the matter seriously, it is reported that as he talked with one of his men named John tears were in his eyes.

Henry P. Davidson's name and fame are linked not with finance and wealth, but with his service to the American Red Cross of which he was Executive Head, during the World War and afterwards. He received no pay for this service although he worked day and night and made at least two trips abroad in the interests of the Red Cross. Only those directly interested in his estate, will remember Mr. Davidson as a successful business man, the people at large will remember him for the splendid work, which he did without money and without price for one of the greatest altruistic organizations on earth.

Sunday, May 14th, is Mother's Day. A day set apart to honor the one who in song and in story has played upon the heartstrings of a world as no other earthly name can; mother. How at the mention of it a flood of memories come trooping back, and a panorama of scenes come thick and fast as one calls to mind the tender ministrations given so unselfishly that others might live and enjoy. The patience; the fortitude; the courage; the unrequited love; the sacrifices; the nights of ceaseless watching; the days of unending toil; in short, a life extending from the cradle to the grave is her constant care given in unbounded fullness, limitless service for those of her care and keeping. Who was it, who is it, during the dark and weary hours of the night when others have grown weary with watching; when eyes lids drop, and sleep comes unbidden to others who fain would pursue but cannot, but there is one who carries on unafraid; it is mother. Who is it when trouble comes; when some one is needed to cheer, and hope and strive; when the way seems dark; when the sun has gone down and others have turned aside to easier tasks; who is it that takes up the thread of love and weaves it, O, so dextrously into the lives of others; mother. Who is it when failure comes; when the thing striving for has passed beyond the grasp, when some one is needed to bolster up that life with encouraging words and helpful service, smoothing the rough way with kind and encouraging words; mother. Who under all circumstances, time or place; favorable or unfavorable; in season or out; under all conditions which the human mind is capable of grasping stands by, and in sunshine or shadow, is always there with that same unchanging, unending, service of helpfulness which ends only at the grave, mother. Many mothers will sit on that day in their homes surrounded by their children and enjoy that happy association. Others will sit alone and gaze out into space and wonder; wonder how they are, those out yonder, the children of but yesterday, but still her children. If not a visit, a letter is the duty; perform it, and bring again that old smile to the face of the best friend you ever possessed or can have.

HARDING'S DEFEAT IN INDIANA.

Senator New's defeat for renomination in the Indiana primaries is President Harding's defeat. The Republican voters of Indiana have repudiated the Harding Administration.

Mr. New is one of Mr. Harding's closest personal friends and most intimate political advisers. He belongs to the inner group of "best minds" that are always in the confidence and counsel of the President.

He made his campaign for renomination as the champion and spokesman of the Harding Administration. He represented the Harding policies and the Harding purposes. Back of him was all the influence of the Harding Administration and all the power of the Federal machine in Indiana. To make sure that there would be no misapprehension in the minds of the voters as to the meaning of the issue, the New managers emphasized his relations with the President and insisted that the only way to uphold the hands of the President was to renominate the Senator. The lines were clearly drawn that New's renomination would be an endorsement of Mr. Harding.

Former Senator Beveridge had no machine, he had no organization, he had no patronage. He was forced to conduct his own campaign and make his own fight. Mr. Beveridge is an abler man than Mr. New, but there was no reason in particular why the Indiana Republicans should turn to him unless they were aggressively dissatisfied with the Harding Administration. Mr. Beveridge is a former Progressive but there was nothing essentially Progressive about his campaign. He made plain his dissatisfaction with the state of things in Washington but he showed no tendency toward a radical solution of any problem. The issues raised can hardly be described as a conflict between liberalism and conservatism, and Indiana is not a State in which a machine Republican like Mr. New is likely to be defeated merely because he is a machine Republican. Back of the Beveridge victory is unmistakably the growing unpopularity of the Harding Administration and the increasing disgust of the voters with the quality of political leadership in Washington.

Nothing more certain to shake the Administration to its very center could have happened than Senator New's defeat. Many weeks ago the Republican managers decided that it would be futile to make a Congressional campaign next fall on the record of the Sixty-seventh Congress; so they prepared to shift the issue. Congress was to be pushed into the background and the President was to be brought to the front. His policies were to be emphasized, the Washington Conference was to be featured and the appeal was to be made for another Republican Congress to enable him to carry through his program.

The plan was not without shrewdness, but at the first test it collapsed. If the Indiana Republicans will not renominate the President's personal friend and thick-and-thin supporter, it is already plain that the name of Harding will not save the Republican Congressional ticket in November. Another shift must be made in the campaign unless the control of Congress is to be lost.

According to despatches from Washington, there was something resembling a political panic in the Administration circles of the Senate when the returns from Indiana were received which indicated Beveridge's nomination and New's defeat. There might well have been a political panic. The returns from Indiana show that the country, having travelled the road to normalcy, is now on its way back, none too pleased with its experience. The power that was obtained in 1920 under false pretenses can no longer be held under false pretenses.—New York World.

"Business as usual" and "Business is better" are two terms which have contributed much to the present healthy growth which is now experienced in all lines of business. The lowest ebb of the business tide was experienced last December. Since that time the trend of trade has been upward the highest tide being registered in April. The building trades are every active. Lumber prices according to those well informed, is to the effect that prices on some grades of lumber is $20.00 up on the thousand. Many homes are being planned and built, and the future is rosy with promise. We can be said to be well past the point of depleted values, and current business is improving with each week. A strong stroke and steady in the boat is the attitude which seems to be assumed by all who are piloting business. The future is assured.

The people of this country can well be alarmed over the new tariff bill which the republican party is about to foist on the country. Its provisions are sweeping and favor the early return of drastic legislation much akin to the profiteering days during the World War. It is said to play directly into the hands of big business as against the mass of the common people, who in the end bear the brunt and burden of government and taxation.

The forests, the timber which abounds on ones farm, is a source of much revenue, and it is surprising that so much of it has been slaughtered during the past few years. The older settlers of this country guarded with a jealous eye their land which abounded in virgin timber, denying the right of any one to cut any part of it. It was a feature of their day to pick out splendid board trees and preserve for years until such a time as they would need to rive them into boards. The timber thus spoken of would have made fine saw stocks, but it was preserved for the making of boards when they would need them.

THEY ALL ADVERTISE

A hen is not supposed to have Much common sense or tact,
Yet every time she lays an egg,
She cackles forth the fact,
A rooster hasn't got a lot
Of intellect to show,
But none the less most roosters have Enough good sense to crow.
The mule, the most despised of beasts,
Has a persistent way
Of letting folks know he's around
By his insistent bray
The busy little bees they buzz,
Bulls bellow and cows moo,
The watchdogs bark, the ganders
quack,
And doves and pigeons coo.
The peacock spreads his tail and
squawks,
Pigs squeal and robins sing
And even serpents know enough
To hiss before they sting.
But man, the greatest masterpiece
That nature could devise,
Will often stop and hesitate
Before he'll advertise.

SENATORS ALLOWED UNLIMITED FUNDS IN MAKING CAMPAIGN

WASHINGTON, May 10. — Something akin to a political sensation was caused today when it became known that Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty had handed out an opinion to the effect that under existing law, the 35 candidates for election to the senate this year, need not make any returns on their campaign expenditures, either for the primaries or for the regular elections this fall.

The returns are required under the corrupt practice act of 1911, but the Attorney General construed the supreme court's decision in the Newberry case as invalidating that portion of the law affecting senators, because the method of their election has been changed since the passage of the act.
They were formerly elected by state legislatures and now by direct vote of the people.

There will be a speedy revision of the law to compel the senatorial candidates to file the returns, just as do members of the house, was generally predicted at the capital today by liberals of both Democrat and Republican parties.

Fears were privately expressed that unless there is a speedy amendment, to the existing law, the Daugherty decision opens a loophole for the forfeiting fall elections through which a flood of money can be poured in many states where there is a hotly contested senatorial fight.

"THE INVISIBLE FEAR"

PACKED WITH MYSTERY
Princess Theater Today
Star Theater Tomorrow

How a society bud is haunted by the belief that she has killed a man, and the latter's sudden reappearance and strange power over the girl, form the nucleus of some unusual situations in the Louis B. Mayer-First National attraction, "The Invisible Fear," which will be shown at the Princess Theater starting Wednesday. Anita Stewart, in the star role, is not seen as just an ordinary mur-dress. She commits the act of violence in self-defense, but nevertheless is tortured by recollections because circumstances prevent her unburden-ing her mind without laying herself open to vicious accusation.

The spectator is let in on enough of the real facts of the case to sway his entire attention to the solution of the mystery caused by the "victim's" reappearance and weird actions.

In his treatment of Madge Tyrone's scenario, Director Edwin Carewe has succeeded in keeping up the suspense of the plot until the big hand that is always in my pocket."

ATTA BOY

If a flapper should flop in your lap
Just slip the poor slopper a slap,
Tell her where to get off,
Give a coy little cough,
And kiss the salt tears from her map.

The feller they constantly makes insinuatim remarks about ever'body else that they see regardin dress, etc.,
belong to the pure bred type o' Ignoramus.

Taste is a matter of tobacco quality

We state it as our honest belief that the tobaccos used in Chesterfield are of finer quality (and hence of better taste) than in any other cigarette at the price.

climax at the end.
Replete with sensational melodramatic touches and surprising twists, the story develops smoothly and steadily towards a strong climax. The action is quick and well-balanced and there is something happening all of the time. "The Invisible Fear" is purely an entertainment picture and succeeds admirably in holding the attention of the spectator with clean comedy hits, dramatic situations, a good romantic strain and plenty of thrills.

Black-Draught, Long in Successful Use, Praised by an Arkansas Mother, "Soon Does Its Work."

Marmaduke, Ark.—Speaking of Theford's Black-Draught, which from long use in her household has become regarded as "the family medicine," Mrs. Mary E. Hill, of Route 1, this place, says:

"When the children get bilious, I give them a couple of good doses, and when we have sour stomach, headache, or any liver or stomach trouble, we use Black-Draught. It is an easy laxative, and soon does the work. I certainly think it is one of the best remedies made."

Black-Draught acts on the jaundiced liver, gently, but positively, and helps it in its important function of throwing out waste materials and poisons from the system.

In thousands of households Black-Draught is kept handy for immediate use in time of need. Prompt treatment often is half the battle, and will often prevent slight ills from developing into serious troubles.

Its well-established merit, during more than 70 years of successful use, should convince you of the helpful effects obtainable by taking Black-Draught for liver and stomach disorders. Get a package today, and keep it in your house. See that the package bears the words, "Theford's Black-Draught." NO-441

(Montgomery Bureau,
Albany-Decatur Daily)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 10. — Alabama's newspaper men will be in Montgomery Wednesday for the annual convention of the Alabama Press Association which will hold its sessions the first day here and the second day's sessions at the Alabama Polytechnic Institute at Auburn.

A special committee named by civic organizations has been busy for several weeks preparing for the reception of the newspaper men. Addresses will be delivered during the first day by Brannan Hood of Montgomery, who will welcome the visitors; Dr. Frank Willis Barnett of Birmingham, who will respond to the address of welcome; Dr. P. P. Claxton, provost of the university of Alabama; Harry M. Ayers of Anniston, publisher of the Anniston Star and commander of the Alabama division, American Legion; W. F. Black, secretary of the Montgomery Chamber of Commerce; Grover C. Hall, associate editor of the Montgomery Advertiser; E. W. Barnett, publisher of the Montgomery Journal.

New Aquatic Record

Etelinda McGary
1922

Etelinda McGary, fourteen-year-old girl, who has been swimming less than two years, has established a new world's record for the three-hundred-yard dash. She competed with Eileen Riegin, Olympic champion, and a strong field of contenders in New York, making the distance in four minutes and eleven seconds. The previous record, held by Mrs. Charlotte Bayle Clune, was four minutes sixteen and one-fifth seconds.

GENERAL STEINER
HONORED BY KILBY

(Montgomery Bureau,
Albany-Decatur Daily)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 10. — General Robert E. Steiner, Sr., of Montgomery has been nominated by Governor Kilby for brigadier-general of the Seventy-Seventh Infantry Brigade, United States National Guard, the organization of which has just been completed. The state military department today announced that the nomination has been made to the war department and must be confirmed by the United States senate.

When the nomination has been confirmed General Steiner will be the commanding officer of the brigade composed of the 167th Infantry, Alabama, and 154th Infantry, Florida. The organization of the brigade has been completed with the mustering into the service of the brigade headquarters company at Tusculloosa.

Alabama was given the right to nominate the commanding officer of the brigade because it was first to start the work of organizing its part of the brigade.

General Steiner has been interested in military affairs of Alabama for many years and was the commanding officer of the brigade of the Alabama National Guard when it went to France, being transferred to other units during the process of reorganization overseas. On his return he was made commanding officer of the Alabama troops, a position he held during the service of the troops in the Birmingham district during the coal strike of 1920 and 1921.

Never before could you get so much tire worth for $10.90

CAR-OWNERS who bought a 30 x 3 1/2 "Usco" for $10.90 last Fall have discovered this by now—

Nobody before ever got so much tire value in the neighborhood of ten dollars.

They never had to question the quality—with the makers of U. S. Royal Cords behind it.

They couldn't help admiring the price—spontaneously made to meet the new economy times.

Today a number of other 30 x 3 1/2 tires have come into the popular $10.90 price range originally established by "Usco."

So it might be well to remember just what the "Usco" Tire is in case you are in the habit of comparing.

In "Usco" you get responsible quality.

$10.90 is today's price. But the quality was fixed long ago—the same "Usco" performance tire users have been buying and using and buying again for years. A tire that would be high value at more than $10.90.

At $10.90 it is unapproached.

YOUR HEALTH

What Dust-Cloth, Broom and Mop Mean to Health

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
Commissioner of Health, New York City

WHAT have the mop, broom and dust-cloth to do with health?—Much—much every way!

To begin with, cleanliness is essential to good health. You cannot have a strong, normal body unless you live in clean rooms and eat clean food from clean dishes. The floor and the furniture cannot be clean without the use of mop, broom and dust-rag.

Let's begin with the broom. This domestic implement is intended to dispose of the gross dirt. But how should it be used?

Sweeping is a fine art. It may accomplish cleanliness, or it may throw into the air clouds of harmful dust. If the sweeping raises a cloud of dust, it is not being done properly. The first essential of proper sweeping is that it shall be dustless.

Dry sweeping is inexcusable. There is something wrong with an establishment which permits such an outrage on the public.

When you come to realize how dangerous this too-common practice really is, you will join the growing army of those who insist on proper methods of cleaning. The floor should be sprinkled with water, with damp sawdust, with bits of damp paper or with some other substance which will collect and hold the dust.

The manner of using the broom should be cultivated. The broom should be drawn over the surface, and not be permitted to snap from the floor, kicking the dust into the air.

While I am speaking about the broom, let me warn the housewife not to use too heavy a broom. Many a woman has made herself lame and perhaps has done herself real harm by wielding a broom too heavy for her. Select a broom according to your strength, height and energy. Then your sweeping will be less a burden even though you have not a vacuum cleaner to replace the broom.

Mops are filthy things. Too many times their use, instead of cleaning the floors and stairways spreads the germs of disease.

There are mops, called oil-mops, which are not wringing out of water, but which are used dry. How is such a mop to be cleaned?

You know how it is cleaned—by shaking it out of the window or down the dumb-waiter. Shame on you! Have you no regard for the health and life of your neighbor?

Mops, dust-rags and rugs should not be shaken out of the window. There are enough dirt and germs of disease in the air without your contribution.

Make a heavy suds of strong soap or ammonia and wash the dirt and dust out of your dust-cloth or mop. This is the only decent way to treat these cleaning implements.

Cleanliness is essential to health, and cleanliness is essential to health, and cleanliness is essential to health.

Dr. Powell Tells Of His Experiences

tentimes my horse was up to his shoulders and I never knew when he might miss some of the bridges, as they were deep under the water, and I never knew when he might begin to move in a large circle, as people and horses sometimes do when lost—and I tell you the journey seemed long and uncertain.

Quick and Ride Worse
"At another time, I was riding in the flooded delta, and came up with a sinking wagon with a bale of cotton on it and the negro driver had abandoned all as the wagon was sinking into quick sand. My horse was sinking too deep for comfort, besides I was leading one I had recently bought. I remember the horse I was leading sank down and passed under the neck of the one I was riding.

"I shouted to the negro, who was trying to ride away from his sinking wagon, that our lives were not of much value, when by some instinct my horses seemed to realize the great danger. And all the floundering, and exertion they put forth. I never saw the like. By some means they got to the steep embankment, with myself clinging on for dear life, and up the embankment the steep hill-side we went. Every moment, I expected the horse under me to fall back into the water and quick sand below, and perhaps lie on top of me until I was quite dead."

Algerian women, when married, are permitted to leave their homes but once a week and then only to visit the cemetery.

Answers to Health Questions
E. M. A. Q.—Kindly tell me a cure for the itch.

A.—There are many forms of Itch, and the treatment varies according to the form present. However, to relieve this condition you should bathe the affected parts with hypophosphite of soda, one tablespoonful to one ounce of water.

N. H. P. Q.—Is warm milk taken at every meal as nourishing for an adult as cold milk?

A.—Yes, it is equally nourishing.

C. R. G. Q.—I have a boy 4 years old and his teeth are beginning to decay. Will you please tell me the cause?

A.—You should take the boy to a dentist and have him examine those teeth very carefully.

DECATUR PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION MEETS

Almost a full attendance was present at the meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association of Decatur, yesterday afternoon at the school. The election of officers was held and a vote of appreciation was given them for accepting for the next terms work. Those elected were: Mrs. Will Giles, president; Mrs. E. J. Polhill, vice-president; Mrs. J. Y. Hamill, publicity secretary; Mrs. Emmett Himes, secretary; Mrs. Willis Morrow, treasurer. Prof. Benson reported that the election to issue the bonds for the new high school would be held on the 20th and that the school board wished their co-operation and aid in carrying this election.

At the close of the business session, Prof. Benson, assisted by the teachers and high school girls served punch and sandwiches and a delightful social hour was enjoyed.

Mrs. Lucy Handley has recovered from an attack of acute indigestion.

Postoffice Opens In New Location

The Albany Postoffice is now functioning in the Malone block next to the Princess theater. The move was effected late Tuesday evening without any interruption in the service, and according to Postmaster L. E. Huie with very little overtime expense. The rural route men went out on schedule as did all city carriers Wednesday morning.

There was a big rush at the "box office" today to secure lock boxes. It was necessary to have two men detailed to look after this feature for quite a while in the early hours of the morning. The new postoffice is commodious, well lighted, with ample room for the reception of all mails and business to be transacted there until such a time as Henry Ford gets Muscle Shoals; when that time comes there will possibly have to be additions made, "as one citizen remarked. It was the purpose of the postmaster to hold a reception when the move was effected, but owing to the fact that some of the furniture now used will be replaced with new, and the further fact that it is almost impossible to straighten up everything in first class style in so short a time, the idea is abandoned.

VA. MERCHANT WENT FOR DAYS WITHOUT FOOD

Morris Thought His Case Was Beyond Reach But Says Luck Came His Way When He Got Tanlac—Now a Well Man.

"For ten years I suffered from stomach troubles and a complication of other ailments, that I thought I would never be rid of, but when I finally began taking Tanlac it was simply amazing how it straightened me right up," said Barland Morris, a merchant of Manco, Va., Buckingham, Co.

"I would go without a bite of food for as much as two days at a time rather than endure the suffering I knew would follow if I ate anything. I also had such pains over my kidneys that I could hardly bear them and then rheumatism got me in its grip. I got so I couldn't move a muscle without being in misery, and my nerves were simply frayed to an edge all the time.

"But the lane turned for me when I got Tanlac and I felt a lot better before the first half bottle was gone. I am now so well it would be hard to find a healthier man anywhere. I can never praise Tanlac enough."

Tanlac is sold in Decatur by Decatur by Decatur Drug Co. and by leading druggists everywhere.—Adv.

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

A Trying Period Through Which Every Woman Must Pass

Practical Suggestions Given by the Women Whose Letters Follow

Phila., Pa.—"When I was going through the Change of Life I was weak, nervous, dizzy and had headaches. I was troubled in this way for two years and was hardly able to do my work. My friends advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am very sorry that I did not take it sooner. But I have got good results from it and am now able to do my housework most of the time. I recommend your medicine to those who have similar troubles. I do not like publicity, but if it will help other women I will be glad for you to use my letter."—Mrs. FANNIE ROSENSTEIN, 882 N. Holly St., Phila., Pa.

Detroit, Michigan—"During the Change of Life I had a lot of stomach trouble and was bothered a great deal with hot flashes. Sometimes I was not able to do any work at all. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in your little books and took it with very good results. I keep house and am able now to do all my own work. I recommend your medicine and am willing for you to publish my testimonial."—Mrs. J. S. LIVENGOOD, 2051 Junction Avenue, Detroit, Mich.

EDITORIAL PEEVES HIGHWAY BOARD

(Montgomery Bureau,
Albany-Decatur Daily)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 10.

Newspaper editorials on the state highway department which resulted from assertions of S. P. McDonald of Sylacauga, member of the highway commission for the fourth district, furnished the subject for an animated debate at the special meeting of the commission yesterday.

John A. Callen, ex-officio member, declared that an editorial in the Opelika News was an affront to the commission. This view likewise was expressed by Senator John Craft of Mobile. Thomas E. Orger of Albertville insisted that an answer should be made to the editorial, contending that the statements and deductions were not correct and should not be allowed to go unchallenged. However, he suggested that nothing be done until the sub-committee had completed its investigation of the books and records of the highway department.

Mr. McDonald answered his critics on the commission by declaring that he was not responsible for any comments made by any newspaper or any deductions the newspapers may have made from any statement he has issued. He did declare that his statements regarding the inadequacy of the information given out by the highway department and furnished the commission and the methods used by the commission in the past were based on statements furnished him by the working force of the commission.

The special meeting of the commission was held for the purpose of awarding contracts for road construction work in Monroe and Coosa counties. The Alabama Construction Company of Montgomery received the contract for the surfacing of 8.23 miles of road in Monroe county with gravel. This road will run from Jones Mill to Monroeville and will be constructed for $34,406.40.

The Finner Company of Tuscaloosa will be given the contract for constructing 13.50 miles of road in Coosa county. The commission will decide at the next meeting whether the road will be of chert or bituminous macadam. This company was now bidder on each, agreeing to construct the road of chert for $159,436.66 and of bituminous macadam for $223,814.76. One branch of the road will lead from Goodwater to Kellyton, another will be from Goodwater toward Ashland and still another from Goodwater toward Sylacauga.

WINE AN AMBASSADOR, IS CLAIM OF FRENCH

(International News Service)
PARIS, May 10.—"Wine is the ambassador of France," is the supreme compliment paid to the French vineyards by the Petit Parisien.

"Let us open up the foreign doors which have been closed to him since the war. For wine is the ambassador of France, who must be received with consideration. He is not a poor devil to be kicked down the steps and thrown out of doors. He is a great senior, able to speak for himself. Let us honor the wine which is of our race and perhaps mixed with our blood."

The critical time of a woman's life usually comes between the years of 45 and 50, and is often beset with annoying symptoms such as nervousness, irritability, melancholia. Heat flashes or waves of heat appear to pass over the body, cause the face to be very red and often bring on headache, dizziness and a sense of suffocation.

Another annoying symptom which comes at this time is an inability to recall names, dates or other small facts. This is liable to make a woman lose confidence in herself. She becomes nervous, avoids meeting strangers and dreads to go out alone.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is especially adapted to help women at this time. It exercises a restorative influence, tones and strengthens the system, and assists nature in the long weeks and months covering this period. Let it help carry you through this time of life. It is a splendid medicine for the middle-aged woman. It is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs and contains no harmful drugs or narcotics.

World's Tallest Office Building Proves Practically Expense-Proof

Use of Durable Metals in Construction Gives Beauty with Permanence

BUILDERS of office skyscrapers in New York are taking a leaf out of the book of Frank W. Woolworth who, thirty-five years after he opened his first five and ten cent store in Utica, N. Y., reared the tallest office structure in the world as his monument.

As the years go by it has become apparent that he built the beautiful Woolworth Building to be as nearly as possible "expense-proof." Wherever possible he used copper or brass or bronze, because these metals do not rust and so are practically everlasting.

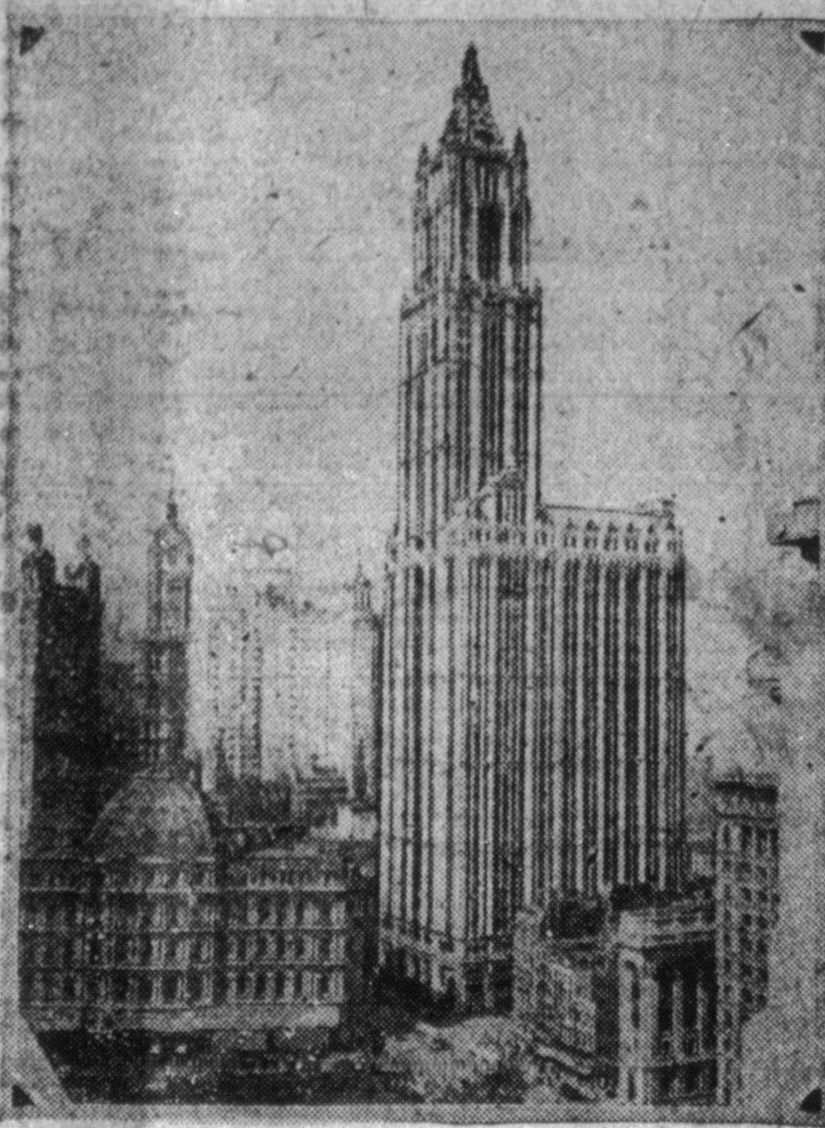

The upkeep and repairs of a sixty story building would be terrific if materials that lack endurance were used. That is why, for instance, Mr. Woolworth used 180,000 pounds of brass pipe in the water-supply system of the building.

The copper-capped tower of the Woolworth Building with its trace of pleasing green color, is beautiful and permanent. No paint could make it more delightful to the eye. The huge lantern at the peak of the tower, which at night is visible beyond Sandy Hook, the leaders and downspouts, the skylights, the screens, and the flashings, are all of copper.

The magnificent entrance doors are bronze, and all the exposed part of the observation gallery on top of the tower, which thousands visit every year, are brass.

The great genius of the "five and ten" knew how to make each penny count. He visualized in a striking way the reaction of a trained business mind to the device of the architect and builder. He secured not only permanence and endurance but also a minimum cost of upkeep and beauty as well, by making his building "expense-proof."

Architects and builders have for years stressed the economy of the use of copper and brass in buildings, both scrapers and cottages, are today large and small, and the people who never before insisting on the use of pay the bills, the owners of sky-scraper enduring metals.

New York Letter

by Lucy Jeanne Price

NEW YORK, May 10.—It is not many yards. With their capacity satisfied the sharks disappeared as suddenly as they came up.

We have always associated horse racing in this country with betting rather than with sport. It is doubtful whether any racing classic ever draws upon the same slice of society as do like events on the other side. It has fallen to the "United Hunt" to furnish each year the most colorful event of the American turf in its metropolitan racing season. At the recent opening the society leaders of New York and the millionaire set were all represented as well as a thrilling card. One of the sportiest events on the program was the contest for the Masters of the Fox Hounds plate for hunters at a distance of about 3 1-2 miles. The race brought out some of the best of the hunters and practically all of the gentleman riders of the East. With this stunning event and all the "Horse" set of New York society present it seemed like a bit of old England over here.

To Subdue the Light.

To modify the too-bright stream of light that falls from an electric lamp which has a porcelain globe it is a good idea to make a shallow bag of the thinnest silk in very pale flesh color or ivory, mount it on a heavy wire or feather boning hoop which will fit the lower part of the porcelain shade and draw the bottom together, finishing it with a Chinese tassel. Chiffon or any very diaphanous material is equally good for making this shade.

For the first time in this city a hotel has announced that it will provide "American Baths" for its patrons. For years every new hotel has bid for public favor with Roman, Pompeian, Russian and Turkish baths and each one has attempted to outdo the next by the splendor of its appointments. It remained for the Hotel Commonwealth, now building at Fifty-fifth Fifth-sixth streets, Broadway and Seventh Avenue, to plan American baths for Americans. It is almost a matter of record that the world only bathed theoretically, our English cousins to the contrary notwithstanding, until American designers took over the job and invented modern facilities, such as are being installed in every first-class hotel and home in Europe. In addition to the baths attached to each of the 2500 rooms of the Commonwealth, there will be the immense bathing establishment to be known as the "American Baths." This will include every variety of bathing and will have the largest indoor salt-water pool in the world.

Passengers on the Frederick VIII recently arrived, are reporting a sea "Pogrom" seen from the ship. The spectacular piscatorial battle was witnessed off the Grand Banks. For more than two hours a school of porpoise, about 150 strong gambled about the ship when suddenly a tremendous commotion occurred among them. They had been attacked by half a dozen sharks. The defenseless fish tried to get away but the sea was churned up as if by a battle of monsters. It ended with the slaughter of some 50 or 60 of the porpoise, crimsoning the sea for an area of

Home Crest Floor Coverings

Translating the Art of the Orient into American Industry

Quality in HOME-CREST Floor Coverings is more than durability of fabric—more than materials expertly chosen and weaving masterfully done. These are but the groundwork on which HOME-CREST Floor Covering's ideal rests.

To appreciate HOME-CREST Floor Coverings distinction, you must look rather to the Patterns—original creations of gifted artists who are inspired by the wide resources and guided by the practical wisdom of a great organization.

Patterns created by foremost artists; high quality; moderate in price—these features characterize HOME-CREST productions.
